YOU DON'T KNOW ME... YET!

I always felt the urge to use computers and understand the technology that works behind to make them incredible machines! Despite this, for years I've been a bystander, watching everything happening from the sidelines, but that will be no more! The time has come for me to be a maker instead of a watcher.

I'm ready to tackle the challenges that make others tremble, and increase my knowledge in the process.

The synergy of team work is my premise, and personal growth is my motto!
